Daily Weather Forecast Distribution

Friday 30 January 2026

Issued at 2300 LST

General Situation

The high-pressure system which covers upper Thailand and the upper South is weakening with an increase in temperature and morning fog/dense fog. Cool to cold weather is likely in the North and the Northeast while cool in the morning is likely in the rest of the regions. Isolated rain are in the East. People should keep healthy due to changeable weather and all transports take more cautions with poor visibility.

The weak northeast monsoon prevails over the lower Gulf and the lower South with less rain in the South. The moderate wind and waves in the lower Gulf are expected 1-2 meters high and about 1 meter high in the lower Gulf and the Andaman Sea.
